

Wow! Wow! Wow!

Tuesday night was certainly a night to remember. The 'Toy Camp' buzz still continues. It's no secret that I love a musical and Toy Camp did not disappoint. From the opening song to the closing whole school number and everything in between, the performances were incredible. Song, dance, acting, high energy, gentler moments, a story with a moral, humour and a few tears ....it had it all.

The leads practiced, practiced and then practiced. They should all be so proud of what they achieved. To stand up and not only remember lines, but sing and dance in front of an audience is not a feat for the meek. They were often called to stretch themselves beyond their comfort zones and they rose to the challenge. They developed a stage presence, they were bold. The natural talent was there at the beginning but it was developed and polished under the impressive skills, expertise and passion of Ashleigh Psaila, she believed in them, so they believed in themselves.

In the weeks leading up, I would often pop in and out of the MacKillop Room to watch the progress and, if I am honest, sing along, and I lost count of how often I was asked which was my favorite class performance. Like a good parent does, I would tell the questioner it was their classes but honestly there was no favorite. Each class held their own and each was unique to the particular group. And again, I observed students being gently pushed and supported to step out of their comfort zone, have a go and do their best and they did. The lure of performing with their classmates and knowing they would be disappointed afterwards if they didn't participate, allowed each to rise and shine in their own right.

Like any event, a concert doesn't simply happen. It takes months of planning and preparing, first by an individual but then supported by a team. The time, attention to detail and enthusiasm Ashleigh Psaila brought to Toy Camp was no doubt the foundation to its success. You couldn't help but jump onboard. This foundation was then supported by many. Heartfelt thanks goes to all who assisted in any way; organising costumes, adding to costumes, designing and building sets, transporting sets, offering clothes racks when the call went out, collecting leads later than usual as they rehearsed, supporting and encouraging your own child/children to participate, arriving early to apply makeup, doing whatever was needed prior, during and after the concert, buying tickets for family and friends. I am sure I have missed things but everything big and small matters, is needed and has an impact.

Ashleigh, I hope when you sit back and watch the concert it was brought to life the way you envisaged it would be. It truly was amazing and the memories from nights like this last forever. Students and families I hope when you receive the video you enjoy watching, rewatching and reliving the night for years to come. Our students did exactly what we aspire for them, seizing all opportunities and having a red hot go. I am so proud of St Anthony's! Bravo!!

AUSTRALIAN MATHS TRUST

Australian Maths Trust. CAT Competition

A very big congratulations to the children who participated in the CAT Maths Competition run by the Australian Maths Trust.

The Computational and Algorithmic Thinking (CAT) competition is designed to give students the opportunity to develop their problem-solving skills through algorithmic thinking. The competition incorporates unique 'three-stage tasks' that encourage students to develop informal algorithms and apply them to test data of increasing size or complexity. These skills can be used to develop students' interest and potential in computer programming. The focus topic this year was applying rules.

Well done to all the following senior students who participated: Oliver, Andrew, Lucy W, Archie, Jenson, Lucy G, Xavier, Ricky, Sapphire, Tom, Summer, Ned, Alexander Z, Hugo, Jake M, Leo B.

A special mention to the following students; Ned who received a Best in School Award and Distinction Award and Leo B, Lucy W and Sapphire who received Credit Awards.

Keep alive your love of mathematics.

District Athletics Day

Last Monday, 51 athletics kids headed to Meadowglen Athletics Track. As we arrived, the sun was shining down on the track. Everyone was a little nervous but ready to go. There was lots of fun, and our team showed great sportsmanship, winning ribbons in almost every event.

Many kids performed exceptionally well, and the overall vibe was fantastic. By the end of the day, most people had earned two ribbons, which was a great achievement for our school. It was amazing to see all the kids' hard work pay off. Everyone had lots of fun, and it was a fantastic day overall. The boys ended up coming fifth overall, and the girls came first for the seventh year in a row!

All of the kids from our school were amazing. Everyone was cheering each other on during the events. A huge thank you to Mr. Haddon for coaching everyone and all the teachers who helped on the day.

FIREFIGHTERS VISIT P/1

on Tuesday morning the firefighters came into the prep classroom. First we read a book about all the helpers we learnt about good and bad fires. Next we talked about smoke alarms. After that the firefighters asked do you have a meeting place. Finally we saw them put their suit on.

on Wednesday morning the firefighters came into the Prep/one classroom. They brought their fire truck. We got to spray the hose and we made it rain. It was wet. Prep/one got to go in the fire truck. We also got to see them spray with the big hose.

TOY CAMP—BACK STAGE

Regional Tee Ball

Two weeks ago, 11 of the Grade 5 / 6 girls competed in the Regional T-Ball Championships, which means we were in the top 220 schools in the whole North of Melbourne. There were four different schools that the girls had to beat to advance to the State Level. In the first game, we played Marymede Catholic College, which turned out to be the hardest game of the day. Beating that team gave all the girls a boost of confidence and good vibes, motivating them to win against the other three schools.

While the girls were playing, the parents were cheering enthusiastically in the sun. It was a fantastic day, with everyone's hard work paying off as we qualified for state! All the girls who participated were amazing, and everyone played great. A big thank you to Mr. Haddon for coaching us through interschool sports, which we won, and then guiding us through district, division, and regional competitions—now onto STATE!!!! Go St Anthony's.

NATIONAL CHILD PROTECTION WEEK

Supported by

National Child Protection Week starts next week (2nd September)

National Child Protection Week starts next week. This year, we are all called to start a new conversation. Why? Because every conversation matters.

Listening and conversing are crucial parts of a child's development, they help them grow, and connect with people, their community and culture. They are pivotal in reducing child abuse.

Children may clam up...

- when they are interrupted.
- when their adult listener is obviously bored or busy doing something else.
- when the adult takes over the discussion.
- when they have their pronunciation or grammar mistakes criticised.
- when they feel they are being questioned.
- when they feel disapproval.

Talking about worries

Sometimes children need to talk about worries, but don't know how to start. Recognise their feelings and gently prompt them. If you really don't have the time just then, make it clear that you will listen later on – and do! Find a quiet place where you can give your undivided attention. Help your child talk about their feelings. Find out what they would like to happen before taking over with adult solutions. It might be best to compromise. If the problem is serious and you need to act, try to stay calm. Strong adult emotions can scare children into silence.

LISTENING TO CHILDREN

Listening to CHILDREN

NAP001 Revised 06/08

Why listening to children is so important

Making a point of listening to every child you know is one of the most important things you can do. It shows children you really care and respect that they are worth listening to. This helps them feel they are special and respected. Being listened to also helps children to practice putting ideas into words, explore their feelings, and develop self-confidence. When you listen to your child, you benefit by learning more about how your child thinks and feels, and what they need.

Finding a time and place for talk

Children will chat more freely when they are doing something with you. This could be:

- Going shopping together
- Walking the dog
- Sitting at a table and sharing a meal
- Watching a TV program together
- Doing a puzzle or making something together

Bedtime is a great time to talk. Then your child knows you are a captive audience!

How to be a good audience

Really pay attention to what your child is saying, rather than doing or thinking about something else.

Show you are listening by nodding, smiling or mirroring the feelings in your child's story. Say things like, "Yes, I see" or "He didn't!"

Ask general questions like, "What happened then?" or "What did you think about that?" This helps children to develop their own ideas and shows that you are interested.

Encouraging children to talk

Ask about the best thing that happened in your child's day.

Remember what has been going on for your child so you can ask the best questions.

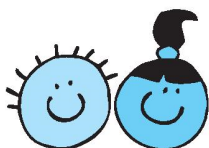

Ask about their friends.

Ask their opinions about things. Ask how they would solve problems. But respect their answers!

If you are reading a book with your children, discuss it with them. Pause at the end of each page for them to comment.

If your child doesn't respond to a question, don't push. Change the topic.

Remember that children live much more in the minute than adults. If they don't want to talk about what happened at school, it's probably because it's not important anymore!

Melbourne Archdiocese
Catholic Schools

Dear All,

Melbourne Archdiocese Catholic Schools – School Improvement Surveys (MACSSIS):
Monday 2 September – Friday 20 September 2024

Throughout each year, we pause to listen to our students, families and staff to gauge how our learning community is travelling. This feedback is invaluable to our progress as effective school communities and is backed by evidence-based research and best practices.

A significant and formal way in which we engage and gather data is through MACSSIS, the Melbourne Archdiocese Catholic Schools – School Improvement Surveys. MACSSIS is a set of surveys that have been built specifically for Catholic schools in Melbourne by the Learning Services team at MACS, in partnership with researchers at Learning First and in wide consultation with principals in our schools.

In 2024, students, families and staff are invited to participate in MACSSIS via our secure and purpose-built online platform. The online platform is where our school leaders will access the summary reports that visualise the results of the student, family and staff surveys.

The MACSSIS survey platform is operated by an independent supplier, ORIMA Research Pty Ltd. The platform meets with the high security and privacy standards for handling student and school data. Participating schools are in the process of updating their privacy policy to ensure school communities are fully informed and protected.

Students at our school will be provided with supervised sessions, where teachers are on hand to help and answer any questions. Families and staff can complete the survey anytime over the three-week window via an emailed link and password. Feedback has indicated that previous surveys were completed across a range of mobile devices and different web browsers.

Our community's opinions are critical to understanding how our school is performing – MACSSIS is a key data source for guiding the ongoing work to improve our school.

All participation is invited, welcomed and 100 per cent voluntary. The surveys are not a test; they are an inclusive way to support the work we are already doing to improve our school. Everyone has the right to refuse to participate, or withdraw from the survey at any point before, during or after completion of the survey. Please notify the school if your child does not wish to participate.

Soon you will receive your unique log in details to complete the survey. I encourage every family to participate, the feedback is invaluable to our progress as an effective school community and is backed by evidence-based research and best practices.

If you would like more information, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely,
Tania Bennett
